"OPEN DOOR" IS SETTLED ISSUE SAYS LANSING

Visit of Mission One of the Most Important in History of Nation

America Will Have Friendly Cooperation of Japanese in World Struggle

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Japan and the United States have reached a complete agreement in relation to China, and at the same time have decided on a clear understanding as to military and naval operations in the war against Germany.

This announcement today by Secretary Lansing, was made public in notes exchanged by him with Viscount Ishi, the special Japanese ambassador, formally recording an agreement recognizing that Japan has a special interest in China but pledging the independence and integrity of the Eastern republic and reaffirming the doctrine of the "open door" for commerce and industry.

In a statement accompanying the note, Mr. Lansing said Viscount Ishi and members of his mission now on their way home had performed a service of the highest value to the United States as well as Japan, by clearing away misunderstandings which unchecked might have developed a serious situation in the eastern country.

He spoke of an attitude of "constraint and doubt" which had been fostered by the Japanese commission, and said that through the frankness and cordiality of the Japanese commissioners, the propaganda of years had been undone in a few days.

In his statement accompanying the announcement Secretary Lansing said: "The removal of doubt and suspicion and the mutual declaration of the document as to the Far East would be enough to make the visit of the Japanese commission to the United States historical and memorable, but it accomplished further purpose which is of special interest to the world at this time in expressing Japan's earnest desire to cooperate with this country in waging war against the German government."

Though only hinted at in Secretary Lansing's statement, it is known that the Germans had calculated to weaken the American campaign against Germany in Europe by obliging the Washington government to keep at home a large section of the United States army and to maintain in Pacific waters numerous American naval fleets to guard against an invasion from Japan.

Now, it is believed the United States can only deal with a freer hand, but that Japan will be able freely to augment the efforts she has been making to sweep the Pacific and Indian oceans clear of German raiders, to aid the Allied navies in the Mediterranean and possibly, even, to employ Japanese troops against Germany.

ACCUSE NEGRO OF PROMOTING SALE OF OPIUM

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 6.—With the arrest of Walter Hoskins, a negro here today, local police believe they have uncovered the source of wholesale illegal drug distribution in the west. Opium valued at more than $1,000 it is said was found in Hoskins' room. It is alleged that Hoskins has imported more than $30,000 worth of the drug from Canada in the past three years and as said to have acted as agent for dispensers all over the country.

GERMANS GIVE NO QUARTER TO BRITONS ON SEA

Appalling Story of Cold Blooded
Massacre Told by Norwegian Newspapers.

London, Nov. 6.—An appalling story of cold blooded massacres by Germans of crews of British North Sea convoys in a recent battle is told by the Norwegian newspapers. The Tidenstegn said the German cruisers were observed at 6 o'clock in the morning an d were thought to be British vessels, but at 7 o'clock, when there was more light, they suddenly began shooting and the convoy was terrified to see the British destroyer at the stern of the convoy begin to sink, although it fought to the end. The German cruisers, signalling the vessels to stop, advanced on each side of the convoy, which they swept with all their guns at a range of less than 200 yards.

The German destroyers came up and helped to spread death and destruction on the defenseless ships, shells falling thick and fast. The Germans were not content to sink the ships, but shelled the lifeboats and every living thing coming their way was mercilessly slaughtered. The survivors owed their lives to the high sea which was running, making the boats a difficult mark.

In the midst of the massacre another British destroyer came up and immediately attacked, but was soon sunk in the unequal struggle. The German flotilla then cruised backward and forward among the sinking steamers, pouring a fresh and terrible rain of shells at a range of 100 yards. One shell went through the Swedish ship Wirinder, exploding in the lifeboat on the other side and killing all its occupants, 14 men and three women.

The lifeboat roved back to rescue the captain and two waitresses from the wreck. A shell struck the boat and killed five of its occupants, only the mate escaping by swimming. The Wirinder was a mass of flames and the two girls jumped into the sea. The captain was saved by clinging to wreckage. As the two young women were sinking, an English ship hoisted the white flag. The answer of the Germans was a shot which killed both girls. Twelve of another ship had just got into the lifeboat when a shell killed them all.

GRADUATES OF SECOND TRAINING CAMPS MAY HAVE TO TAKE A REST

Secretary of War Baker Says They Will Not Be Called Into Service at Once

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Men recommended for commissions at the close of the second series of officers' training camps will be called into active service only as there is actual need for them. Secretary Baker said while some of the second camp men will be needed at once, the indications are that a majority of them will be held on the inactive list until the next increment of the national army is organized.

Mr. Baker said he did not know when that would be.

The understanding has been that the next call will come soon after the first of the year.

HOPE TO HOLD TEUTONS UNTIL MORALE IMPROVES

Cadorna Has Not Indicated Where He Will Make Stand for the Final Battle.

CROSSING OF TAGLIAMENTO
IS EFFECTED BY INVADERS

Austro-Germans Press Southward to Adriatic and Meet with Successes.

By Associated Press.

Austro-German forces operating against the Italians along the Tagliamento river from the region of the Carnic Alps southward to the Adriatic sea, are proving a serious menace.

The invaders of Venetia have driven across the river at Pinzano and are proceeding westward, while to the north, on the Italian left wing, intensive operations are being carried out by the Teutonic allies, the two manuevers probably having as their objective the cutting off of the entire right wing of General Cadorna's army.

The Berlin war office, in announcing the fording of the river, says 6,000 Italians were made prisoners and that additional guns were taken. The Italian official communications make brief mention of the operations, asserting the enemy succeeded in bringing some of his forces to the right bank of the stream.

Prepare for Stand.

There is no indication whether General Cadorna is trying to maintain the Tagliamento line. It is not improbable his stand here is temporary, while positions of greater strength are being prepared in the rear. There has been no official statement since the retreat from the Isonzo front began concerning the spot chosen by Cadorna for turning against the enemy. Some military observers have considered that with his large losses in men and guns during the retrograde movement, he would merely elect to stand along the Tagliamento and retard the enemy until better arrangements could be provided further back westward.

Both the Rome and Berlin war offices are silent as to the movement begun by the enemy in the Trentino region last Saturday, which it was believed at the time indicated the Germans and Austro-Hungarians would attempt to push southward along the western banks of Lake Garda through Brescia and out upon the plains between Milan and Verona. In the first attempt to break the Italian front in this region the Teutonic allies met with repulse.

Raid Operations.

British and French troops in Flanders continue to carry out raiding operations successfully against the Germans and to heavily bombard enemy positions at various points, with the Germans replying actively between Houtholst wood and the Comines Ypres canal. Bombardments also predominate on the southern part of the front in France.

Two additional defeats of the Ottoman forces were recorded by the British in southern Palestine and by the Russians in the region of the Black sea coast. North of Berescha the British are pressing on with the definite object of the capture of the coast city of Gazza. In their operations they have taken 27 officers, 27,492 men prisoners. The Russians have driven the Turks from first line trenches in the Black sea region and have advanced at some places to the third line. Large quantities of booty were captured.

HOLD NORTHERN SLOPE.

French Front in France, Nov. 5.—The Germans still hold the northern slope of the valley of the Ailette after their retreat from the Chemin de Dames, of which nothing remains but the historic name and its dominating position over the marshy lowlands.

French patrols everywhere reach the southern bank, but whenever they attempted to attack the other side they met with a murderous machine gun fire. The whole southern slope of the valley was swept hour after hour on Sunday with German shells of all calibers, most of them charged with noxious gases. Every place where the Germans believed the French were concentrating received continuous salvos, which, however did little damage. Several thousand projectiles were fired by the German artillery in the course of the day in this sector, most of which apparently were fired at very long range and struck without exploding.

CHEEKBONE FRACTURED.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Chicago lost a cog in its football machine today when surgeons reported that Coach Dan, right tackle, had suffered a fracture of the cheekbone severe enough to keep him out of play for the rest of the season. He was kicked toward the end of the Illinois game Saturday and an examination revealed a break close to the nose and immediately beneath the right eye.

WILSON TO VOTE.

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Wilson left today for Princeton, N. J., to vote in the general election, planning to return here immediately. It is his first visit home since last summer. The President is accompanied by Secretary Tumulty, and Rear Admiral Grayson, his physician.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 6.—New York is holding its mayoralty election today. Fair weather led to predictions that a record-breaking vote would be polled. Of the 688,509 voters who registered, it was expected that at least 615,000 would cast their ballots. The polls opened at six o'clock and will close at five o'clock this afternoon.

To Delay Count.

In other years, the result of a mayoralty election was known within a few hours after the closing of the polls, but an element of doubt has entered into the situation this year owing to the delay that will arise in counting the votes of about 70,000 to 10,000 voters in military service.

Claim Victory.

At the close of a campaign, almost unparalleled for its bitterness, campaign managers of the four parties issued statements claiming victory. The union party predicted that Mayor John Purroy Mitchell would be re-elected by a plurality of at least 50,000; Tammany Hall claimed that County Judge John F. Hyland, democrat, claimed a plurality of 70,000; former State Senator William F. Bennett, the Republican nominee, who defeated Mayor Mitchell at the primaries, asserted he would get 275,000 votes, and Morris Hillquit, the wealthy candidate of the socialist party was certain he could pull 250,000 votes.

Disorder Developed.

East side during the forenoon a woman urged a man in line not to vote and was arrested. Other women interfered and police reserves were summoned. Three other women were arrested, one charged with assaulting a policeman. Mayor John Purroy Mitchell, fusion candidate for reelection, has to a large extent subordinated his fight against Tammany Hall by assisting pro-German influence and asserting they were working to control the election, and declaring himself in sympathy with President Wilson's policies.

Morris Hillquit, socialist, has campaigned openly as a peace advocate. He announced his refusal to purchase Liberty Loan bonds and said frankly that his election would be construed as a mandate to the Federal government to begin negotiations to terminate the war.

John F. Hyland, democratic candidate, who has the support of Tammany Hall and the newspapers of Vm. Randolph Hearst, has disregarded war issues as campaign material except that he has desented imputations against his loyalty and has asked his fight on attacks on phases associated with the Mitchell administration.

Wm. M. Bennett, who won the republican nomination at the primaries after a recent reversal of the apparent choice of Mitchell, also has dwelt lightly on war affairs and has centered his campaign on Tammany and the Mitchell regime.

This unique political situation on the eve of its first war time election many years was frankly puzzling night even to veteran campaigners. Pre-election predictions of victory were made at the headquarters of all four candidates tonight.

On Lookout for Fraud.

Frederick L. Marshall, New York state superintendent of elections, announced here tonight that his office had arranged to handle 700 orders of arrest in connection with possible fraud during the election in this city tomorrow.

"It is entirely new departmental procedure, and is certain to reduce to a minimum the possibility of fraud," Mr. Marshall stated.

"It has been the custom when a person has registered falsely to place his name on the challenge list, to preclude the possibility of other persons voting under that name. Under the orders of arrest, as soon as an affidavit is filed with this office, the person challenged will be arrested and arraigned."

Challenge lists containing 31,150 names already have been prepared in the city, Mr. Marshall added. These figures, he explained, do not include his lists prepared in Brooklyn.

GERMANS EXERT GREAT PRESSURE AT TAGLIAMENTO

Concentration of Italian Forces and Allied Reinforcements
Face the Teutons.

SITUATION IS STILL
PRONOUNCED GRAVE

Natural Defenses West of River
Especially Strong Is Holland of Italy.

MASS ATTACK.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 6.—The reports of heavy artillery fire on both banks of the Tagliamento with the chief pressure on the Italian left wing, shows that Austro-German patrols have crossed the river as foreseen, and that the enemy is trying to throw his main body into the plain of the western Friuli region.

The enemy attack in the Gluducaria valley on the Trentino front also shows clearly his purpose to make a mass attack from the north.

The Italian authorities highly appreciate the work of the American Red Cross, which is supplementing the conspicuous service the British Red Cross rendered during the recent retreat.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 6.—The situation is still grave. Attention is now centered on the strength of the defenses west of the Tagliamento river and on the ability to effect the vast reorganization and oppose the whole force of the concentration of Italian troops and allied reinforcements against the tremendous pressure the enemy is exerting.

All the allies should realize that one of the supreme trials of the war has reached the final stage.

The chief pressure of the enemy advance is now being exerted against the newly constituted left wing of the Italian army in an attempt to throw the bulk of the hostile forces across the Tagliamento river and then resort to the enemy's favorite device of a turning movement. The Tagliamento is the boundary between the eastern and the western Friuli region. Having overrun the eastern region, it is the evident purpose of the enemy general staff to profit by speed in throwing its masses to the western region before the Italians are able to carry out their reformation process.

Time Chief Factor.

Time is the chief factor for Italy in reconstructing her lines, and speed is the chief factor for the enemy, although the Marne furnished the warning of the danger in pushing an army ahead too fast.

The Tagliamento is something more than a military obstruction, as it is also relied upon to give time for reorganization. This involves not only fighting but feeding, and it is a colossal task to re-establish the deranged subsistence service of a vast army, so that rations may be supplied with that unfailing regularity which keeps up the morale of the troops.

Holland of Italy.

The natural defenses west of the river are also strong, as the region is known as the Holland of Italy, being a network of canals and rivers, most of them running straight across the line of the advancing enemy waves.

The French received an enthusiastic welcome and the presence of the French and English supplies served as an inspiration throughout the Italian ranks. The American action also was noted with the deepest satisfaction.

The co-operation of the allies is being watched and accompanied by a patriotic wave throughout Italy. The walls everywhere are covered with patriotic declarations for the defense of the country. The workmen of the Great Ansaldo gun and ammunition works united in a telegram to the government asking permission to leave their work and take up arms in the field.

The Novara and Genoa cavalry regiments, which General Cadorna has conspicuously thanked for the rear guard services they performed, are everywhere heroes of the hour. The correspondent's party saw them last Sunday during the pell-mell retreat, witnessing the inspiring spectacle of these troops, spurred forward across the fields.

FIRST LINE OF DEFENSES.

London, Nov. 6.—The British correspondent accredited to Italian headquarters, telegraphing Monday, says: "The crossing of Tagliamento does not imply a fresh Austrian victory, for the river is only the first line of defense upon which depends the arrest of the invasion of northern Italy. The enemy has not had time to bring up his biggest guns."

"The struggle will be largely a race between the enemy's heavy artillery and the arrival of allied reinforcements."

TO CARE FOR PRISONERS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—Arrangements for supplying captured Americans with food and clothing in the German prison camps have been made through the Red Cross, which has a committee in Switzerland to send rations and other necessities at regular intervals. As the number of Americans in German hands increases it may be necessary to make further provision for them through the Spanish ambassador in Berlin, who is caring for American interests there.

The capture of the soldiers heightens interest in the question as to the probable treatment of American prisoners in Germany. Other military prisoners have been used on roads and in the fields and presumably the Americans will be treated the same way.

With the American Army in France, Nov. 6.—The German raid on the American trench was carried out against members of the second contingent entering the trenches for training. These men had only been in a few days. Before dawn on Saturday, the Germans began shelling vigorously by the barbed wire in front of the trenches, dropping many high explosives of large caliber. A heavy artillery fire was then directed so as to cover all the adjacent territory, including the passage leading up to the trenches, thereby forming a most effective barrage in the rear as well as in the front.

Lieutenant Plucky.

The young lieutenant in charge of the detachment of Americans started back to the communicating trenches to his immediate superior for orders. The barrage knocked him down, but he picked himself up and started off again. He was knocked down a second time, but, determined to reach his objective, got up again. A third time he was knocked down and badly shell-shocked, and was put out of action.

Soon after that, Germans to the number, according to the report, of 210, rushed through the barbed wire entanglements on each side of the salient, their general objective being the (fore-field having lifted for a moment). The Germans went into the trenches at several points. They met with stout resistance. Pistols, grenades, knives and bayonets were freely used.

Considerable Confusion.

For many minutes there was considerable confusion in the trenches, the Germans stalking the Americans and the Americans stalking the Germans. In one section of the trench an American private captured two Germans with a bayonet. That was the last seen of him until after the raid, when a dead American was found on the spot. Another was killed by a blow on the head with a rifle butt from above.

Some of the Americans apparently at the beginning of the attack did not realize just what was going on. One of the wounded, a private, said: " (Continued on Page Three)

Region Along the River Stretching to Adriatic Abandoned by Cadorna

CONFLAGRATIONS LIGHT
UP PATH OF RETREAT

Crossing Made by Teutons Destroys Absolutely Allies' Mastery of Positions

By Associated Press.

Italy's armies along the Tagliamento are menaced by another Austro-German stroke, similar to the one which caused the great retreat from the Isonzo line. The river has been crossed, and an advance in force by the invaders from Pinzano, the place of crossing southward, would place the Italian army along the Tagliamento in almost the same positions from which it retreated on the Isonzo.

There are indications that the crossing which was made were the river narrows between the hills was not in general force, and the Austro-Germans have not yet been able to advance greatly from the river banks. The crossing of the Tagliamento breaks the Italian mastery of the western bank unless General Cadorna's men can drive the Teutons back again.

Wedge Toward River.

West of Tagliamento around Pinzano the ground is not cut up by many small streams and canals as it is farther south, and the aim of the German general staff may be to drive a wedge from Pinzano southward toward the river Liverza in the hope of cutting off the Italian right wing. A strong Italian blow, however, might turn the force which has crossed, and eliminate its possible danger.

General Cadorna has not announced officially that the Tagliamento was the line on which the Italians would make a strong attempt to save Venice, and dispatches from headquarters report its eventual crossing was seen and probably prepared against.

Short and Narrow.

The river Liverza is short and narrow, and would afford few natural advantages. The river Piave, twenty-five miles west of the Tagliamento, would seem to be as strong naturally as the Tagliamento.

The morale of the Italians is reported to be improving. The food and supplies have been replenished. Indications are that resisting power of the Italian troops is rising, the soldiers having been rested by the Austro-German failure to cross the Tagliamento as soon as it was reached.

IN FULL RETREAT.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—The Italian line on the Tagliamento river has been won by the Austro-Germans it was officially announced today by the German general staff. The Italians have evacuated the entire line along the river to the Adriatic Coast. The statement says that from the Fella valley to the Colbine north to Sugna valley the Italians are retreating.

This region includes the front along the Bolsone in the Carnic Alps. Conflagrations, the German statement adds, on the route taken by the retreating Italians is between the mountains and upper sea through the Italian plains.

CALLS IT A DEMOCRACY.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—"While the troops of the Central Allies were forcing their way across the Tagliamento, Germany at home quietly crossed the political Rubicon and in the space of five days, changed from an autocracy into a democracy," declared Matthias Erzberger, leader of the Central party in an interview today with the Associated Press correspondent.

NESBIT HAS SOME JOB AS MILITARY INSURANCE HEAD

Washington, Nov. 6.—Early last spring Charles F. Nesbit, and authority on insurance suggested it would be a good thing if Uncle Sam insured his own sailors and soldiers—far better than making them dependent upon pensions. It would make the families of killed soldiers more independent. The idea appealed to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, and congress passed the war insurance bill, automatically insuring every man in our armed service and giving each an opportunity to take additional insurance at small cost. Nesbit has just been designated by McAdoo the first commissioner of military insurance under this act. It is going to be some job, as applications for $18,000,000 of insurance are already on file. Nesbit has been superintendent of insurance for the District of Columbia four years, and prior to that was president of the Masonic Mutual Life Insurance Co. He was born in Summit county, Ohio in 1867 and educated in Missouri. He came here when his father was made chief clerk of the department of agriculture during President Cleveland's administration. He had been in the insurance business about 17 years.

DAIRY BUSINESS FINDS MANY FRIENDS IN STATE

Better Stock, Richer Food and

Helping Industry

The organization of a co-operative creamery has been completed by progress of minor farmers with the assistance of State Dairy Commissioner Osterhaus, who believes the enterprise has every promise of success. Plans are now being made for the erection of a modern plant, and the product of 1,200 milk cows, owned by farmer stockholders of the company, has been pledged. There are 10 shareholders. Dairy Commissioner Osterhaus and his two assistants have made every town in the state at least once and a number of places have been visited several times. He finds interest in dairying increasing and a growing appreciation of the value of better stock and of the desirability of better feed and better shelter for cattle. Farmers generally are going in for alfalfa and are raising tame grasses for their greater milk-producing qualities. In spite of the extreme dry weather of the last season, farmers with a stand of three-year-old alfalfa had two or three good cuttings, and this experience has converted many to alfalfa and clover.

The Bismarck National Travelers' Food Conservation club at a regular weekly meeting in the Commercial club rooms elected officers for the ensuing year, as follows: President, Dan S. The Van Horn and Atlantic cafes, although they could not be represented, assured the travelers that they were in on the deal. Cards outlining plans for meatless-wheatless days will be furnished by the club to all hotels and restaurants that will join with the travelers in this movement, which seems to have the support of every caterer in North Dakota.

CHEESE FACTORY WOULD HELP CUT H. C. OF L. BY SELLING STORES DIRECT

The Edgeley Co-operative Cheese factory, the only enterprise of the kind in North Dakota, desires to eliminate the middleman and enter the Bismarck field direct. It has written Commissioner Osterhaus asking him to sound Capital City merchants on the possibility of their buying direct from the factory. "The Edgeley plant is manufacturing excellent cheese, and merchants by purchasing direct, should be able to cut down the retail price of the product several cents a pound," said the dairy commissioner. Cream cheese now brings at the plant about 25 cents, to which is added the jobbers' profit and the cost of transportation. By the time it reaches the ultimate consumer, it costs from 40 to 45 cents the pound making it a rather expensive luxury. It is suggested that consumers anxious to reduce the high cost of rarefied ask their dealer for Edgeley cheese, "Made in North Dakota."

Capt. Jack W. Murphy of Co. A, the First North Dakota Infantry, writes from the 41st division headquarters hospital at Camp Greene that he is having a fine time with a complication of rheumatism, tonsillitis and several other afflictions. The day he wrote to Adjutant General Fraser he had been allowed to sit just an hour, and that was the day upon which the First was expected to leave for Minneola, L. I.

RAIL BUSINESS CLOSED

Smallest Season's Total on Record as Result of Drought Rivalry

North Dakota's smallest season's rail insurance business on record has been fully closed up. In fact, every warrant had been mailed out by Oct. 1 a month in advance of the usual closing date. The drought insurance companies took most of the rail business this season. The state department collected in premiums $11,974.43 and paid out on losses advanced at $16,674.05 a total sum of $10,325.51, or 87.4 per cent, as against 38 per cent paid last year, when something over $30,000 was collected in premiums.

A Riley poem makes a superb sacred number for Alma Gluck

The Prayer Perfect
Victrola Red Seal Record C4713. Ten-inch, $1.

Just as James Whitcomb Riley's "Prayer Perfect" touched the heart with its simple beauty, so will Alma Gluck's interpretation still further endear this poem in the hearts of the people.

It is a wonderfully beautiful sacred number. A record every lover of Riley's tender verse—every lover of Gluck's exquisite voice—will want to hear. A record that bespeaks for itself a place among the sacred music in every Victor Record library.

Go to-day to any Victor dealer's and have him play this new Gluck record or any other music by the world's greatest artists who make Victor Records exclusively. He will also gladly demonstrate the various styles of the Victor and Victrola—$10 to $40. Ask to hear the Saenger Voice Culture Records.

Commissioner Demands Audience with Montana Drought Ins. Co.

State representatives of the Bankers' Insurance Co. of Helena, Mont., were again advised by the insurance commissioner today that a hearing to determine just what the company is doing toward the adjustment of approximately $2,500,000 worth of drought business is desired by his department. The original suggestion along this line apparently has been ignored or overlooked by the drought folk.

People Ask Such Funny Questions in A Garage

I. C. C. HAS FULL POWER TO PROVE RAIL EXPENDITURES

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—The supreme court held today that the Interstate Commerce commission has practically unlimited powers to investigate the activities and expenditures of railroads.

The decision was rendered in the case of President Milton H. Smith and other officials of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, who contested the commission's authority to require them to answer questions regarding the company's political activities and contributions.

The court decided that a carrier has the right to mold or enlarge public opinion, but that its conduct is open to inquiry.

The opinion is the first definition of the wide powers conferred on the commission by congress in 1910, which the railroads have always denied. It declares flatly that the investigating and supervising powers of the commission extend to all activities of the carriers and to all sums expended by them "which could affect in any way their benefit or burden as agents of the public."

The case grew out of an inquiry instituted by the commission last year into the Louisville and Nashville's alleged political activity, its relations with other carriers and its efforts to affect public opinion relative to rate reductions.

The railroad officials refused to reply to certain questions, claiming powers were statutory and did not extend to such investigations. The lower court, at the commission's request ordered them to answer whereupon they appealed.

ASSOCIATED CHARITY STILL ON THE JOB

Charitable work now being done by the Salvation Army should not be confused with the Associated Charity which is now efficiently administered and officered. Father Hiltner is president; O. E. Anderson, secretary and John Yecken, treasurer.

This organization was formed recently at a public meeting and is caring for needy cases as fast as they are reported and can be investigated.

SPORT CHATTER

"BULL" PULLS A ZIM.

Bull Muldoon was a husky loon. Always ready to fight with any tramp.

But he struck it tough—they used him rough.

In a U. S. army service camp.

He watched with glee a football spree And opined "that is pretty soft for me."

"I'll knock 'em dead," Bull Muldoon said.

"I'll mix up in this gay soiree."

Now Shorty Dunn was a son-of-a-gun. He weighed one-five in his army uniform. But he learned his game and earned his fame.

Under the eyes of old Coach Saggs.

"The ground'll wipe with that little snips."

Said Bull Muldoon as he sized up Dunn.

And he chuckled with joy as he planned to toy.

With Shorty the pygmy son-of-a-gun.

But Shorty Dunn had all the fun. He kicked Bull's ribs and he climbed his frame.

He broke a few bones and laughed at Bull's groans.

And Bull had enough of the football game.

MIGHT TRY IT.

The kaiser might call the war informal after he's licked and save himself a lot of trouble.

Matty says he would like to get Buck Herzog. August Herrmann says he doesn't want Herzog. Which is about the wisest thing Augie has ever said, considering Herzog's popularity in Cincy.

Freddie Welsh is planning a come-back. We would advise Freddie to buy a few pies and train with Charley Chaplin.

FABLE.

Jess Willard appeared at a training camp today and offered either to help train the Sammies without pay or to go to France as a private.

Now that we have informal football teams we must go a bit further with these suggestions: Informal crack 'em; informal poker games—where you don't pay if you lose informal prize fights; for Al McCoy and Jess Willard; informal automobile accidents—you don't have to pay damages, etc., etc., etc.

MINUTE MEN OF FOOTBALL...

By PAUL PURMAN.

The return of Michigan to the western conference and the attempt to state a post-season game between Chicago and Michigan recalls one of the greatest records of western football, both in its inception and realization and its unfortunate culmination.

The record referred to is that of Fielding Yost's at Michigan, beginning in 1901 and ending with Chicago's 2-0 defeat of the Wolverines in 1905, a defeat which caused an upheaval in the western conference and resulted in Michigan leaving the Big Eight.

During those years Michigan did not suffer a defeat and piled up a total of about 3,000 points against all opponents who registered less than 100 against the Yost machine.

It was the day of Willie Heaton, of Boss Weeks, of Babe Carter, Dan McGugin and others whose names will go down in the football hall of fame so long as the game is played on American college gridirons.

These were the famous teams of which Yost demanded and received "a point a minute," slogan which gave him the name of Hurry-up Yost.

Since 1905 Yost has developed wonderful teams. Unable to get games in the western conference he has been forced to play smaller schools in the middle west to drive for his big east games, usually with Cornell, Penn. sylvania and Syracuse.

Yost's choice as coach of Michigan was indirectly due to the business of a player on the Ohio Wesleyan team of 1897. Yost was coaching the Ohio college at that time and when he started with his squad to Ann Arbor for the Michigan game found he had just 11 men who could qualify as football players. Arriving at Ann Arbor one of the men suddenly became ill. Wesleyan agreed to play if Michigan would permit Yost to fill in. Michigan, needing practice and anticipating an easy victory, consented.

Owing to the skill and finesse with which Yost played the game the game ended a serious tie. A few years later when Michigan needed a coach Yost's playing was remembered and he was secured.

Yost was born in Fairview, W. Va., April 20, 1871, and after the usual high school training entered Ohio Northern University. The next year he entered West Virginia university, where he played tackle in 1894 and 1895, going to Lafayette in 1896.

The next year he coached at Ohio Wesleyan and won the Ohio State title.

Championships then became a mania with the smiling Yost. In 1898 he coached Nebraska and won the Missouri Valley conference title. In 1899 he went to Kansas, beat Nebraska and again won the title. In 1900 he won the Pacific Coast title at Stanford and found time to coach San Jose Normal school into the normal school championship and Lowell High of San Francisco, to the prep school title in an elimination contest embracing 28 schools.

The next year Yost went to Michigan and for three years won the conference title, losing it the fourth year in the game with Chicago.

When he is not coaching football teams Yost is busy with his oil interests in Kentucky.

Born in the oil district of West Virginia, Yost has always followed the oil fields. He is also interested in a hydro-electric power company in Tennessee.

Sport Gossip

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Although the annual meeting of the stockholders of the National club here was postponed officially to Nov. 15, the majority stockholders held a session with Chas. Weeghman, president of the club today, and passed on plans for next year. Weeghman was allowed $2,000,000 for the purchase of new players for 1918. The season's losses were totalled and were said by baseball writers to be in the neighborhood of $250,000, although this figure was not confirmed. A. D. Lasker, one of the directors, denied a recurring rumor that Weeghman and Mitchell are to be displaced.

Weeghman told the stockholders that two big deals are in the fire. Negotiations for new players have just about reached the signing point.

JACKSON AND DALE WILL BOOST WAR Y IN DAKOTA DRIVE

Former Secretary of State Association and Former Pastor of Local Church Coming

A. B. Dale, former state secretary for North Dakota, now has entire charge of all Y. M. C. A. work at Camp Dodge, and Bruce Jackson, for a number of years pastor of the Baptist church at Bismarck, and now religious work director at Camp Dodge, will both be in the state this week and remain over for next week for the war fund campaign of the association, which is being put on all over the United States for the purpose of raising $25,000,000 for Y. M. C. A. war work. Of this vast sum North Dakota's share is $125,000. This makes the $14,000 raised last year for this purpose seem small and insignificant, but these are the days of great things and so a great amount of money is required.

The speaking dates for these two prominent men have not yet been made out, but it is expected that they will touch most of the larger cities in the state. Both men have been at Camp Dodge from the time the first soldiers landed there, and thus know from personal experiences just what is being done.

Fresh news comes from the front every day as to the immense value of Y. M. C. A. work. Now that our boys are actually in the trenches no effort or means can be spared to surround them with the utmost comforts and safety. The moral dangers or camp life, especially in Europe, is just as great and as dangerous as in the trenches themselves. The only means of safety for the boys is the helping hand of the association.

WAR PRISONERS

Ambassador Gerard to Tell of Atrocities in Pamphlet Issued Soon.

CAPTURED RUSSIANS
KILLED LIKE DOGS

Washington, Nov. 5.—The fact that German soldiers, themselves, appealed to Ambassador Gerard as "the representative of a Christian state," to protest against atrocities and butcheries in which their commanders forced them to participate, will be disclosed in a forthcoming issue of a pamphlet by the committee on public information, entitled "German War Practices."

One German soldier, conscience-stricken by the massacre of Russian prisoners, implored the American ambassador to protest, and signed his letter "A German soldier and Christian."

Another who, through the ambassador, addressed his appeal to the American government, describes in detail how English-borne who had surrendered, were shot down in small groups. "This was the protest of a German soldier, an eye witness of the slaughter of Russian soldiers in the Mauthausen lakes and swamps."

"It was a heinous, heart-rending, as the masses of human bones were driven to destruction. Above the terrible thunder of the cannon could be heard the heart-rending cries of the Russians: 'Oh Prussians! Oh Prussians! Oh Prussians!' But there was no mercy. Our captain had ordered the whole lot must die. Five men and one officer on our side went mad from those heart-rending cries. But most of my comrades and the officers joked as the unarmed and helpless Russians shrieked for mercy, while they were being suffocated in the swamps and shot down. The order was: 'Close up and at it harder.' For days afterward those heart-rending yells followed me and I dare not think of them or I shall go mad. There is no God, there is no morality and no ethics any more. There are no human beings any more, but only beasts. Down with militarism."

This was the testimony of another German soldier on the east front: "Russian Poland, Dec. 19, 1914: 'In the name of Christianity I send you these words. 'My conscience forces me, as a Christian German soldier, to inform you of these lines. 'Wounded Russians are killed with the bayonet, according to orders. 'Russians who have surrendered are often shot down in masses, according to orders, in spite of their heart-rending prayers. 'In the hope that you, as the representative of a Christian state, will protest against this, I sign myself, 'A German soldier and Christian. 'I would give my name and regiment, but these words could get me court-martialed for divulging military secrets.'"

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 6.—How negroes of the twenty-fourth infantry shot down persons in the streets, fired into their houses and in one instance aimed deliberately at members of a family who were on the front porch on the night of Aug. 23, last, was told this afternoon by Houston civilians at the court martial trial of 63 negroes charged with mutiny, murder and rioting. Wm. Drucks testified that he came out on his porch and seeing soldiers marching past, called to a relative to turn on the porch light so he could see who they were. "Immediately," Drucks testified, "I saw three negro soldiers drop on their knees and fire. One shot blew my arm off." He held up the stump, standing beside him on the porch. Drucks testified, stood Fred Winkler, his half brother, who was killed. The witnesses estimated there were 85 or 100 negroes. He said more than a dozen shots were fired into his home.

STATE BONDING ACT GOES INTO EFFECT TODAY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—North Dakota's law of 1915 permitting the state insurance commissioner to furnish official bonds for county, city and other officers in competition with private surety bonding concerns today was put into effect by the supreme court, which dismissed because of lack of jurisdiction an appeal of the Dakota Trust company of Fargo, attacking its validity.

While the bonding act was passed in 1915, it never has become effective. Its constitutionality was immediately attacked by the Dakota Trust Co., which claimed the state had no constitutional right to compete with private corporations for business of this nature. The supreme court of the state ruled that in fact was not unconstitutional, and the Dakota Trust Co., through its attorney, Aubrey Lawrence of Fargo, then appealed to the supreme court of the United States, which now claims jurisdiction.

HEALTHY SKIN
Depends on Kidneys.

The skin and the intestines, which work together with the kidneys to throw out the poisons of the body, do a part of the work, but a clean body and a healthy one depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are clogged with toxic poisons you suffer from stiffness in the knees in the morning on arising, your joints seem "rusty," you may have rheumatic pains, pain in the back, stiff neck, headaches, sometimes swollen feet, or neuralgic pains—all due to the uric acid or toxic poisons in the blood. This is the time to go to the nearest drug store and simply obtain a 50c package of Anuric, the discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. Then drink a cup of hot water before meals, with an Anuric Tablet, and notice the gratifying results.

TESTIMONY OF IDAHO WOMEN SPEAKS VOLUMES.

Main St. Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.—"My lungs were sore and I coughed up a great deal of mucus. My blood was bad also, when a friend advised the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I used several bottles of it and it cured me. I am in good health today."—Mrs. P. GAY, 1113 Lakeside.
